SUNNY DISPOSITION

When creating for a showhouse filled with spaces by talented designers, the challenge is finding a way to stand out. That's exactly what Lisa Erdmann of Lisa Erdmann Interiors achieved when she debuted this conversation-sparking sitting room in the annual Kips Bay Decorator Show House Palm Beach.

"The space is fun and playful," says Erdmann. "There is a gregarious mix of bright yellows, natural fibers, and whites with pops of accent color fabrics. We also showcased that you could mix antiques with modern elements and transitional furniture to create a very successful space."

Erdmann fell in love with a Nelson

De La Nuez painting at DTR Modern in Palm Beach, and the work became a focal piece as it was strong enough to pop on the yellow Schumacher wallpaper.

Without any restrictions on her creativity, Erdmann's wow-effect sunny space delivered a noteworthy performance in an elite talent show. (lisaerdmann.com)—Liza Grant Smith
